

9 : Civil Engineering

Simulation of mechanical constraints on reinforced concrete bridges.

This internship focuses on numerical simulation of forces applied to reinforced concrete structures.

You will use finite element analysis (FEA) software to identify weak points.

An experimental study may be conducted on physical models.

Advanced modeling methods such as topological optimization will also be explored.