

18 : Biochemistry

Characterization of proteins involved in metabolic regulation.

The objective is to study the structure and function of key enzymes in energy metabolism.

Mass spectrometry and crystallography analyses will be performed.

The internship will include an in-depth analysis of protein-protein interactions to understand metabolic pathways.