

8 : Applied Mathematics

Mathematical modeling of epidemics and propagation simulation.

You will develop epidemiological models (SIR, SEIR, etc.) to simulate the spread of diseases and evaluate the effectiveness of public health measures based on historical data.

A comparative study of vaccination strategies will be included.

Monte Carlo techniques and advanced statistical analyses will be explored.