

10 : Signal Processing

Detection of anomalies in EEG signals using neural networks.

The objective of this internship is to design an artificial intelligence algorithm capable of analyzing electroencephalographic signals (EEG) and automatically detecting cerebral anomalies.

Validation on real hospital data will be conducted.

The study will also include a comparison of EEG signal preprocessing techniques (filtering, wavelets).